Important Information

Throughout this document McCullagh Financial Services, LLC shall also be referred to as “the firm,” “firm,” “our,” “we” or “us.” The client or prospective client may be also referred to as “you,” “your,” etc., and refers to a client engagement involving a single person as well as two or more persons, and may refer to natural persons and legal entities. The term “advisor” and “adviser” are used interchangeably where accuracy in identification is necessary (i.e., Internet address, etc.).

Item 4 - Advisory Business

Description of the Firm

McCullagh Financial Services, LLC is a Kansas domiciled limited liability company formed in 2014. We may operate under the trade name McCullagh Financial Services. We are not a subsidiary of nor do we control another financial services industry entity. In addition to our 2015 registration as an investment advisor in the State of Kansas, our firm and its associates may register, become licensed or meet certain exemptions to registration and/or licensing in other jurisdictions in which we conduct investment advisory business.

David E. McCullagh is our firm's President and Chief Compliance Officer (supervisor). He is also the Managing Member and maintains controlling interest in the firm. Additional information about Mr. McCullagh and his professional experience may be found toward the end of this brochure.

Description of Advisory Services Offered

McCullagh Financial Services provides a broad range of investment advisory solutions to its clients. For those interested in areas such as cash flow and budgeting, education funding, retirement planning, risk management, estate planning, tax planning, as well as periodic investment advice, we offer our financial planning services. We provide ongoing and continuous supervision of clients' investment accounts through our portfolio management services offering.

A complimentary initial interview is conducted by a representative of our firm to discuss your current situation, long-term goals, and the scope of services that may be provided to you. During or prior to this meeting you will be provided with our current Form ADV Part 2 firm brochure that includes a statement involving our privacy policy. Should you wish to engage McCullagh Financial Services for its services, you must first execute our client engagement agreement. Thereafter, discussion and analysis will be conducted to determine your financial needs, goals, holdings, etc. Depending on the scope of the engagement, you may be asked to provide copies of the following documents early in the process:

- Wills, codicils and trusts
- Insurance policies
- Mortgage information
- Tax returns
- Current financial specifics including W-2s or 1099s
- Information on current retirement plans and benefits provided by your employer
- Statements reflecting current investments in retirement and non-retirement accounts
- Employment or other business agreements you may have in place
- Completed risk profile questionnaires or other forms provided by our firm

Our ability to provide our advisory services depends on access to important information about our clients, and it is important that the information and financial statements you provide is accurate. Our firm may, but is not obligated to, verify the information you have provided which will then be used in the financial planning or investment advisory process. In addition, it is necessary that you provide us with an adequate level of information and supporting documentation throughout the term of the engagement, including, but not limited to: source of funds, income levels, and an account holder or their legal agent's authority to act on behalf of the account, among other information. This helps us determine the appropriateness of our planning and/or investment strategies for your portfolio.

Financial Planning Services

Our financial planning services may be as broad-based or narrowly focused as you desire. The incorporation of most or all of the noted components allows not only a more thorough analysis but also an in depth view of your plans to assist you in reaching your goals and objectives. If several or all of the services described are provided together, the total time needed to complete these services may be less than the time it would take to complete each service separately because of the efficiency gained by combining more than one service.

Cash Flow Analysis and Debt Management

A review of your income and expenses will be conducted to determine your current surplus or deficit. Based upon the results, we will provide advice on prioritizing how any surplus should be used, or how to reduce expenses if they exceed your income. In addition, advice on the prioritization of which debts to repay may be provided, based upon such factors as the debt's interest rate and any income tax ramifications. Recommendations may also be made regarding the appropriate level of cash reserves for emergencies and other financial goals. These recommendations are based upon a review of cash accounts (such as money market funds) for such reserves and may include strategies to save desired reserve amounts.

Risk Management

A risk management review includes an analysis of your exposure to major risks that could have a significant adverse impact on your financial picture, such as premature death, disability, property and casualty losses, or the need for long-term care planning. Advice may be provided on ways to minimize such risks and about weighing the costs of purchasing insurance versus the benefits of doing so and, likewise, the potential cost of not purchasing insurance ("self-insuring").

Employee Benefits

A review is conducted and analysis is made as to whether you, as an employee, are taking maximum advantage of your employee benefits. We will also offer advice on your employer-sponsored retirement plan and/or stock options, along with other benefits that may be available to you.

Personal Retirement

Retirement planning services typically include projections of your likelihood of achieving your financial goals, with financial independence usually the primary objective. For situations where projections show less than the desired results, a recommendation may include showing you the impact on those projections by making changes in certain variables (i.e., working longer, saving more, spending less, taking more risk with investments). If you are near retirement or already retired, advice may be given on appropriate distribution strategies to minimize the likelihood of running out of money or having to adversely alter spending during your retirement years.

Tax Strategies

Advice may include ways to minimize current and future income taxes as a part of your overall financial planning picture. For example, recommendations may be offered as to which type of account(s) or specific investments should be owned based in part on their "tax efficiency," with consideration that there is always a possibility of future changes to federal, state or local tax laws and rates that may impact your situation.

College Funding

Advice involving college funding may include projecting the amount that will be needed to achieve post-secondary education funding goals, along with savings strategies and the “pros-and-cons” of various college savings vehicles that are available. We are also available to review your financial picture as it relates to eligibility for financial aid or the best way to contribute to grandchildren, if appropriate.

Estate Planning

Our review typically includes an analysis of your exposure to estate taxes and your current estate plan, which may include whether you have a will, powers of attorney, trusts and other related documents. We may assess ways to minimize or avoid future estate taxes by implementing appropriate estate planning strategies such as the use of applicable trusts. We generally recommend that you consult with a qualified attorney when you initiate, update, or complete estate planning activities. We may provide you with contact information for attorneys who specialize in estate planning when you wish to hire an attorney for such purposes. From time-to-time, we will participate in meetings or phone calls between you and your attorney with your approval or request.

Divorce Planning

Separation or divorce can have a major impact on your goals and plans. We will work with you to help you gain an understanding of your unique situation and provide you with a realistic financial picture so that you are in a better situation to communicate with legal counsel, a mediator or soon to be ex-spouse. We can assist in the completion of cash flow and net worth projections, budgetary analysis, division of property, as well as help you to understand what the consequences and/or benefits are involving a settlement.

Investment Consultation

Investment consultation services often involve providing information on the types of investment vehicles available, employee retirement plans and/or stock options, investment analysis and strategies, asset selection and portfolio design, as well as limited assistance if your investment account if it is maintained at another broker/dealer or custodian. The strategies and types of investments that may be recommended are further discussed in Item 8 of this brochure.

Business Consultation

We are available to assist small businesses in a variety of ways to include business strategy, practice management, general financial advice, debt management, as well as assisting you with matters involving coordination with your financial institution, attorney or accountant.

A broad-based plan is an endeavor that requires detail, therefore, certain variables can affect the cost involved in the development of the plan: the quality of your own records, complexity and number of current investments, diversity of insurance products and employee benefits you currently hold, size of the potential estate, and special needs of the client or their dependents, among others. We may concentrate on reviewing only a specific area (modular planning) per your request, such as an employer retirement plan allocation, college funding or evaluating the sufficiency of savings plan. Note that when these services focus only on certain areas of your interest or need, your overall situation or needs may not be fully addressed due to limitations you may have established.

Whether we have created a broad-based or modular plan, we will present you with a summary of our recommendations, guide you in the implementation of some or all of them per your decision, as well as offer you periodic reviews thereafter (see Item 13). In all instances involving our financial planning engagements, our clients retain full discretion over all implementation decisions and are free to accept or reject any recommendation we make.

Portfolio Management Services

You may engage our firm to implement investment strategies that we have recommended to you. Depending on your risk profile, goals and needs, among other considerations, your portfolio will involve the employment of one of our investment strategies as well as either a broad range or more narrowly focused choice of investment vehicles which are further discussed in Item 8 of this brochure, and our fee rates are noted in Item 5.

Where appropriate, we will prepare investment guidelines reflecting your objectives, time horizon, tolerance for risk, as well as any reasonable account constraints you may have for your portfolio. These guidelines will be designed to be specific enough to provide future guidance while allowing flexibility to work with changing market conditions. Since this effort is the product of information and data you have provided, you may be asked to review these guidelines and provide your final approval.

We will develop a customized portfolio for you based on your unique situation. We serve as your portfolio manager under a discretionary or non-discretionary agreement (defined in Item 16), and the engagement generally includes:

- Determination of risk tolerance
- Investment strategy
- Investment guideline development
- Asset allocation
- Asset selection
- Regular monitoring
- Periodic rebalancing

Educational Workshops

We offer periodic complimentary educational seminar sessions for those desiring general advice on personal finance and investing. Topics may include issues related to general financial planning, educational funding, retirement strategies, implications involving changes in marital status, and various other current economic or investment topics.

Our workshops are educational in nature and do not involve the sale of insurance or investment products. Information presented will not be based on any one person's need nor do we provide individualized investment advice to attendees during our general sessions.

Wrap Fee Programs

Our firm does not sponsor or serve as a portfolio manager in an investment program involving wrapped fees.

Client Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2018, the firm had $1,160,000 of reportable client assets under management¹ via discretionary engagement agreements.

General Information

McCullagh Financial Services does not provide legal or accounting related services, but with your prior written consent we will work with your accountant or legal counsel to assist with the coordination and implementation of accepted strategies. You should be aware that these other professionals will charge you separately for their services and these fees will be in addition to our own advisory fees.

Our firm will use its best judgment and good faith effort in rendering its services. McCullagh Financial Services cannot warrant or guarantee the achievement of a planning goal or any particular level of account performance or that your account will be profitable over time. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results.

Except as may otherwise be provided by law, our firm will not be liable to the client, heirs, or assignees for any loss an account may suffer by reason of an investment decision made or other action taken or omitted in good faith by our firm with that degree of care, skill, prudence and diligence under the circumstances that a prudent person acting in a fiduciary capacity would use; any loss arising from our adherence to your direction or that of your legal agent; any act or failure to act by a service provider maintaining an account.

Federal and state securities laws impose liabilities under certain circumstances on persons who act in good faith and, therefore, nothing contained in this document or our client engagement agreement shall constitute a waiver of any rights that a client may have under federal and state securities laws.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

Forms of payment are based on the types of services being provided, term of service, etc., and will be stated in your engagement agreement with our firm. Fees are to be paid by check or teller's draft from US-based financial institutions. With your prior authorization payment may also be made through a qualified, unaffiliated third-party processor or withdrawal from your investment account held at your custodian of record. We do not accept cash, money orders or similar forms of payment for our engagements.

Types of Fees and Payment Schedule

Financial Planning Fees

Planning engagements are provided in two methods: project-based or on an hourly basis. Prior to entering into an agreement with our firm we will provide you with a cost estimate.

Project-Based

Broad-based plans are typically assessed a fixed fee that ranges from $2,500 to $5,000. Our fee will take into consideration factors such as the complexity of your financial profile, the depth of services to be provided through the engagement, assets that comprise your overall portfolio, number of accounts comprising the portfolio, whether you or our firm will implement the transactions for your account(s), time involved in the engagement, among others. To initiate the engagement, a $500 fee is payable upon signing the agreement and the balance is due upon presentation of the final plan.

¹ The term "assets under management" and rounding as defined by the SEC's 2010 General Instructions for Part 2 of Form ADV.

Hourly Fee

If you are interested in our assisting you with a limited number of planning components, such as advice on your current 401(k) allocation or debt management, you are typically assessed an hourly fee. The rate is $150 per hour. We bill in 30-minute increments and a partial increment (e.g., 10 minutes) will be treated as a whole increment. A $500 deposit is due upon signing the agreement and the balance is to be paid upon our presentation of your final plan or advice. Engagements requiring more than 30 days to complete may necessitate that we invoice you at the end of each month for our time.

Portfolio Management Fees

Portfolio management accounts are assessed an asset-based fee that is based on the average daily balance during the previous calendar quarter. By using an average daily balance method, we may readily adjust for additions and withdrawals as well as mid-cycle account openings or closures. The fee will be billed in arrears on a quarterly basis as described in the following table. We assess our asset-based fee based on straight tier; all of the client's assets managed by our firm are assessed a single percentage rate that declines as asset levels increase.

Assets Under Management	Annualized Asset-Based Fee
$0 - $249,999	1.25% (125 basis points)
$250,000 - $499,999	1.00% (100 basis points)
$500,000 - $999,999	0.80% (80 basis points)
$1,000,000 - $2,999,999	0.65% (65 basis points)
$3,000,000 - $4,999,999	0.55% (55 basis points)
$5,000,000 - Above	0.50% (50 basis points)

For the benefit of discounting your asset-based fee, we may aggregate accounts for the same individual or two or more accounts within the same family, or accounts where a family member has power of attorney over another family member's or incompetent person's account. If account investment objectives are substantially different for any two or more household accounts, requiring different investment approaches or operational requirements, fee schedules may be separately applied.

Portfolios are assessed in accordance with account asset values disclosed on the statement that you will receive from your custodian of record for the purpose of verifying the computation of the advisory fee. In the rare absence of a reportable market value, our firm may seek a third-party opinion from a recognized industry source (e.g., unaffiliated public accounting firm), and you may choose to separately seek such an opinion at your own expense as to the valuation of "hard-to-price" securities if necessary.

Your first billing cycle will begin once your agreement is executed and account assets have settled into your account held by the custodian of record. Fee payments will generally be assessed within the first 15 days of the beginning of each billing cycle.

By signing our firm's engagement agreement as well as the selected custodian account opening documents you will be authorizing the withdrawal of transactional (see following section) and advisory fees from your account. The withdrawal of these fees will be accomplished by the custodian of record, not by our firm, and the custodian will remit our fees directly to our firm. Please note that you share in the responsibility to verify the accuracy of fee calculations; the custodian may not verify the accuracy of advisory fee assessments for you. We do not entertain requests for direct payment of our advisory firm fee in lieu of having the advisory fee withdrawn from your investment account.

Discounting Fees

Our published fees may be discounted at the discretion of our President but they are not negotiable. We strive to offer fees that are fair and reasonable in light of the experience of the firm and the services to be rendered to our clients, however, similar services may be made available from other providers and potentially at a lower fee.

Additional Client Fees

Any transactional or service fees (sometimes termed brokerage fees), individual retirement account fees, qualified retirement plan fees, account termination fees, or wire transfer fees will be borne by the account holder per the custodian of record's separate fee schedule. We will ensure you receive a copy of our custodian's fee schedule at the beginning of the engagement, and you will be notified of any future changes to these fees by the custodian of record and/or third party administrator for certain tax-qualified plans.

Fees paid by our clients to our firm for our advisory services are separate from internal fees involving mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), exchange-traded notes (ETNs), or other investments of this type.

Per annum interest at the current maximum statutory rate may be assessed on fee balances due more than 30 days; we may refer past due accounts to collections or legal counsel for processing. We reserve the right to suspend some or all services once an account is deemed past due.

Additional information about our fees in relationship to our brokerage practices are noted in Items 12 and 14 of this document.

External Compensation for the Sale of Securities to Clients

We do not charge or receive a commission or mark-up on your securities transactions, nor do we receive "trailer" or SEC Rule 12b-1 fees from an investment company we may recommend when we are engaged to provide portfolio management services. Fees charged by issuers are detailed in prospectuses or product descriptions and you are encouraged to read these documents before investing.

You retain the option to purchase recommended or similar investments through your own selected service provider.

Termination of Services

Either party may terminate the agreement at any time, which will typically be in writing. If you verbally notify our firm of the termination and, if in two business days following this notification, we have not received your notice in writing, we will make a written notice of the termination in our records and send you our own termination notice as a substitute.

McCullagh Financial Services will not be responsible for investment allocation, advice or transactional services (except for limited closing transactions) upon receipt of a termination notice. It will also be necessary that we inform the custodian of record that the relationship between the firm and the client has been terminated.

If our Form ADV Part 2 firm brochure was not delivered to you at least 48 hours prior to entering into the investment advisory contract, then you have the right to terminate the engagement without fee or penalty within five business days after entering into the agreement. Should a client terminate a financial planning service after this five-day time period, the client may be assessed fees at the firm's current hourly rate for any time incurred in the preparation of the client's analysis or plan. When a portfolio management services client terminates their agreement after the five-day period, the client will be assessed fees on a prorated basis for services incurred from either (i) as a new client, the date of the engagement to the date of the firm's receipt of the written notice of termination, or (ii) all other accounts, the last billing period to the date of the firm's physical or constructive receipt of written termination notice.

If you were required to provide an initial deposit of $500 or more for our financial planning services engagement, you provided all requisite information, and such plans or services have not been delivered to you within six months or less time from the date of the engagement, you may be entitled to a refund.

The firm will return any prepaid, unearned fees (if any) within 30 days of the firm's receipt of termination notice. Earned fees in excess of any prepaid deposit will be billed at the time of termination and will be due upon receipt of our invoice. Our return of payment to a client for our financial planning services will only be completed via check from our firm's US-based financial institution; no credits or "transaction reversals" will be issued. We will only coordinate remuneration of prepaid asset-based fees to an investment account via the account custodian. Return of prepaid fees will never involve a personal check, cash or money order from our firm or from an associate of our firm.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Our firm's advisory fees will not be based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation (growth) of any portion of managed funds, also known as performance-based fees. We believe such compensation creates an incentive for a firm to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to a client. We do not use a performance-based fee structure because of the conflict of interest this type of fee structure poses.

Our fees will also not be based on side-by-side management, which refers to a firm simultaneously managing accounts that do pay performance-based fees (such as a hedge fund) and those that do not; this type of arrangement, and the conflict of interest it may pose, does not conform to our firm's practices.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

We provide advisory services to individuals and high net worth individuals of all investment experience, as well as small businesses and their key personnel. We do not require minimum income, asset levels or other similar preconditions for our engagements.

McCullagh Financial Services reserves the right to waive or reduce certain fees based on unique individual circumstances, special arrangements or preexisting relationships. We also reserve the right to decline services to any prospective client for any non-discriminatory reason.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

Method of Analysis

When we are engaged to provide investment advice, we will first gather and consider several factors, including your:

- current financial situation and need
- interim and long-term goals and objectives

- level of investment knowledge
- tolerance or appetite for risk
- reasonable investment restrictions involving your portfolio

We generally rely upon fundamental analyses; evaluating economic factors including interest rates, the current state of the economy, or the future growth of an industry sector. Our research may be drawn from sources that include financial periodicals, information published by economists or other industry professionals, company press releases, corporate rating services, as well as annual reports, prospectuses and regulatory filings

Investment Strategy

We recognize that each client's needs and goals are different; subsequently client portfolio strategies and underlying investment vehicles will vary. Our firm's typical strategies are based on Core + Satellite and Modern Portfolio Theory.

Core + Satellite

A Core + Satellite investment strategy blends passive (or index) and active investing, where passive investments are used as the basis or "core" of a portfolio and actively-managed investments are added as "satellite" positions. With this strategy, the portfolio core holdings are indexed to potentially more efficient asset classes, while outlying selections are generally limited to active holdings in an attempt to outperform a particular category (sector), or a selection of particular positions to increase core diversification, or to improve portfolio performance. For example, the core of a portfolio may be built with low-cost index funds or ETFs; satellite holdings would include equities and fixed income or active investment managers (mutual funds) with unique strategies that are believed capable of adding value beyond a stated benchmark over a full market cycle. The core may represent the majority of the total portfolio, and the remainder may then employ positions that take a shorter duration to assist in the over-or-under allocation to specific sectors, regions, assets classes, etc.

Modern Portfolio Theory

Our passive strategy is based on Modern Portfolio Theory; selecting securities whose price movements have historically low correlations to create efficient portfolios that offer the highest expected return for a given level of risk, or one with the lowest level of risk for a given expected return. This practice does not employ market timing or stock selection methods of investing but rather a long term, buy-and-hold strategy with periodic rebalancing of the account to maintain desired risk levels.

Investments Recommended

We strive to create portfolios that contain investment vehicles that are diversified, tax-efficient, and low-cost whenever practical. Although it is common to find a broad range of mutual funds or ETFs within a portfolio, certain accounts may necessitate holding individual securities (stock and bond) positions. We may recommend the use of options for the purpose of hedging or generating income for the portfolio.

Investment Strategy and Method of Analysis Material Risks

Our firm believes its strategies and investment recommendations are designed to produce the appropriate potential return for the given level of risk; however, there is no guarantee that an investment objective or planning goal will be achieved. Each client must be able to bear the risk of loss that is associated with their account, which may include the loss of some or their entire principal invested.

We have provided examples of such risk in the following paragraphs, and we believe it is important that you review and consider each of them risk prior to your investing.

Company Risk

When investing in securities, such as stocks, there is always a certain level of company or industry-specific risk that is inherent in each company or issuer. There is the risk that the company will perform poorly or have its value reduced based on factors specific to the company or its industry. This is also referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced or mitigated through diversification.

Core + Satellite Strategies

Strategies involving Core + Satellite investing may have the potential to be affected by “active risk” (or “tracking error risk”), which might be defined as a deviation from a stated benchmark. Since the core portfolio attempts to closely replicate a stated benchmark, the source of the tracking error or deviation may come from a satellite portfolio or position, or from a “sample” or “optimized” index fund or ETF that may not as closely align the stated benchmark.

Failure to Implement

As a financial planning client, you are free to accept or reject any or all of the recommendations made to you. While no advisory firm can guarantee future performance, no plan can succeed if it is not implemented. Clients who choose not to take the steps recommended in their financial plan may face an increased risk that their stated goals and objectives will not be achieved.

Financial Risk

Excessive borrowing to finance a business operation increases profitability risk because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Fundamental Analysis

The challenge involving fundamental analysis is that information obtained may be incorrect; the analysis may not provide an accurate estimate of earnings, which may be the basis for a security’s value.

Inflation Risk

When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.

Market Risk

When the stock market as a whole, or an industry as a whole, falls, it can cause the prices of individual stocks to fall indiscriminately. This is also called systemic or systematic risk.

Passive Investing

A portfolio that employs a passive, efficient markets approach (representative of Modern Portfolio Theory) has the potential risk at times to generate lower-than-expected returns for the broader allocation than might be the case for a more narrowly focused asset class, and the return on each type of asset may be a deviation from the average return for the asset class.

Political Risk

The risk of financial or market loss because of political decisions or disruptions in a particular country or region, and may also be known as "geopolitical risk."

Research Data

When research and analyses are based on commercially available software, rating services, general market and financial information, or due diligence reviews, a firm is relying on the accuracy and validity of the information or capabilities provided by selected vendors, rating services, market data, and the issuers themselves. While our firm makes every effort to determine the accuracy of the information received, we cannot predict the outcome of events or actions taken or not taken, or the validity of all information researched or provided which may or may not affect the advice on or investment management of an account.

Socially Conscious Investing

If you require your portfolio to be invested according to socially conscious principles, you should note that returns on investments of this type may be limited and because of this limitation you may not be able to be as well diversified among various asset classes. The number of publicly traded companies that meet socially conscious investment parameters is also limited, and due to this limitation, there is a probability of similarity or overlap of holdings, especially among socially conscious mutual funds or ETFs. There may be a more pronounced positive or negative impact on a socially conscious portfolio, which could be more volatile than a fully diversified portfolio.

Security-Specific Material Risks

Equity (Stock) Risk

Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases or decreases in value as market confidence and perceptions of their issuers change. If an investor held common stock or common stock equivalents of any given issuer, they may be exposed to greater risk than if they held preferred stocks and debt obligations of the issuer.

ETF and Mutual Fund Risks

The risk of owning ETFs and mutual funds reflect their underlying securities (e.g., stocks, bonds, etc.). ETFs and mutual funds also carry additional expenses based on their share of operating expenses and certain brokerage fees, which may result in the potential duplication of certain fees. Leveraged or inverse ETFs attempt to achieve multiples of the performance of an index or benchmark through the opposite (inverse) of the performance of the tracked index or benchmark. This strategy attempts to profit from, or hedge exposures to, downward drifting markets. There is risk involving this strategy and part of the concern is based on the fact that leveraged and inverse exchange traded funds "reset" daily, which means they are designed to achieve their stated objectives on a daily basis. It is due to the compounding effect of daily adjustments that ETF performance over longer periods of time can differ significantly from the performance (or inverse of the performance) of an underlying index or benchmark during the same period. This effect is potentially magnified during volatile markets. If effects contrary to the ETF strategy occur, losses may be significant; therefore, leveraged and/or inverse ETFs will be considered for portfolios either properly hedged or for clients able to sustain potentially higher risks. Leveraged and inverse funds, therefore, do not necessarily align with a portfolio where a "buy-and-hold" philosophy is important.

Fixed Income Risks

Fixed income instruments, such as bonds, money market funds or bond funds may be affected by various forms of risk, including:

Credit Risk

The potential risk that an issuer would be unable to pay scheduled interest or repay principal at maturity, sometimes referred to as “default risk.” Credit risk may also occur when an issuer’s ability to make payments of principal and interest when due is interrupted. This may result in a negative impact on all forms of debt instruments, as well as funds or ETF share values that hold these issues. Bondholders are creditors of an issuer and have priority to assets before equity holders (i.e., stockholders) when receiving a payout from liquidation or restructuring. When defaults occur due to bankruptcy, the type of bond held will determine seniority of payment.

Duration Risk

Duration is a measure of a bond’s volatility, expressed in years to be repaid by its internal cash flow (interest payments). Bonds with longer durations carry more risk and have higher price volatility than bonds with shorter durations.

Interest Rate Risk

The risk that the value of the fixed income holding will decrease because of an increase in interest rates.

Liquidity Risk

The inability to readily buy or sell an investment for a price close to the true underlying value of the asset due to a lack of buyers or sellers. While certain types of fixed income are generally liquid (i.e., bonds), there are risks which may occur such as when an issue trading in any given period does not readily support buys and sells at an efficient price. Conversely, when trading volume is high, there is also a risk of not being able to purchase a particular issue at the desired price.

Reinvestment Risk

With declining interest rates, investors may have to reinvest interest income or principal at a lower rate.

Index Investing

Certain ETFs and indexed funds have the potential to be affected by “active risk” (or “tracking error risk”), which might be defined as a deviation from a stated benchmark.

Options Risks

Risks involving options trading are detailed in the Chicago Board Options Exchange’s “The Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options” brochure that we will provide to you upon request or may be found at their website at: <http://www.cboe.com>.

QDI Ratios

While many ETFs and index mutual funds are known for their potential tax-efficiency and higher “qualified dividend income” (QDI) percentages, there are asset classes within these investment vehicles or holding periods within that may not benefit. Shorter holding periods, as well as commodities and currencies (that may be part of an ETF or mutual fund portfolio), may be considered “non-qualified” under certain tax code provisions. A holding’s QDI will be considered when tax-efficiency is an important aspect of the client’s portfolio.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

Neither the firm, nor its management, have been involved in a criminal or civil action in a domestic, foreign or military jurisdiction, an administrative enforcement action, or self-regulatory organization proceeding that would reflect poorly upon our advisory business or its integrity.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Firm policies require associated persons to conduct business activities in a manner that avoids conflicts of interest between the firm and its clients, or that may be contrary to law. McCullagh Financial Services will provide disclosure to each client prior to and throughout the term of an engagement regarding any conflicts of interest involving its business relationships that might reasonably compromise its impartiality or independence.

Neither the firm, management, nor its associates are registered or have an application pending to register as a Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) or National Futures Association (NFA) member firm, nor are we required to be registered with such entities. Neither our firm nor its management is or has a material relationship with any of the following types of entities:

- accounting firm or accountant
- another investment advisor, including financial planning firms, municipal advisors or third-party investment advisors
- bank, credit union or thrift institution, or their separately identifiable departments or divisions
- insurance company or insurance agency
- lawyer or law firm
- pension consultant
- real estate broker or dealer
- sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships
- trust company
- issuer of a security, to include investment company or other pooled investment vehicle (including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or “hedge fund,” and offshore fund)

Upon your request, you may be provided referrals to various professionals, such as an accountant or an attorney. Our firm does not guarantee the quality or adequacy of the work provided by these referred professionals. There is not an agreement with these entities nor are referral fees received from these professionals for such informal referrals. Any fees charged by these other entities for their services are completely separate from advisory fees assessed by our firm.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

McCullagh Financial Services holds itself to a fiduciary standard, which means the firm and its associates will act in the utmost good faith, performing in a manner believed to be in the best interest of its clients. Our firm believes that business methodologies, ethics rules, and adopted policies are designed to eliminate or at least minimize material conflicts of interest and to appropriately manage any material conflicts of interest that may remain. You should be aware that no set of rules can anticipate or relieve all material conflicts of interest. Our firm will disclose to its advisory clients any material conflict of interest relating to the firm, its representatives, or any of its employees which could reasonably be expected to impair the rendering of unbiased and objective advice.

Code of Ethics Description

We have adopted a Code of Ethics that establishes policies for ethical conduct for our personnel. Our firm accepts the obligation not only to comply with applicable laws and regulations but also to act in an ethical and professionally responsible manner in all professional services and activities. Firm policies include prohibitions against insider trading, circulation of industry rumors, and certain political contributions, among others. We periodically review and amend our Code of Ethics to ensure that they remain current, and we require firm personnel to annually attest to their adherence to the firm's Code of Ethics. A copy of the firm's Code of Ethics is made available to any client or prospective client upon request.

Statement Involving our Privacy Policy

We respect the privacy of all clients and prospective clients (collectively termed "customers"), both past and present. It is recognized that you have entrusted our firm with non-public personal information and it is important that both access persons and customers are aware of firm policy concerning what may be done with that information.

The firm collects personal information about customers from the following sources:

- Information customers provide to complete their financial plan or investment recommendation;
- Information customers provide in engagement agreements and other documents completed in connection with the opening and maintenance of an account;
- Information customers provide verbally; and
- Information received from service providers, such as custodians, about customers' transactions.

The firm does not disclose non-public personal information about our customers to anyone, except in the following circumstances:

- When required to provide services our customers have requested;
- When our customers have specifically authorized us to do so;
- When required during the course of a firm assessment (i.e., independent audit); or
- When permitted or required by law (i.e., periodic regulatory examination).

Within the firm, access to customer information is restricted to personnel that need to know that information. All access persons and service providers understand that everything handled in firm offices are confidential and they are instructed not to discuss customer information with someone else that may request information about an account unless they are specifically authorized in writing by the customer to do so. This includes, for example, providing information about a spouse's IRA or to adult children about parents' accounts, etc.

To ensure security and confidentiality, the firm maintains physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect the privacy of customer information.

The firm will provide our customers with its privacy policy on an annual basis per federal law and at any time, in advance, if firm privacy policies are expected to change.

Investment Recommendations Involving a Material Financial Interest and Conflicts of Interest

Neither the firm nor an associate is authorized to recommend to a client, or effect a transaction for a client, involving any security in which the firm or a “related person” (e.g., associate, an immediate family member, etc.) has a material financial interest, such as in the capacity as a board member, underwriter or advisor to an issuer of securities, etc.

An associate is prohibited from borrowing from or lending to a client unless the client is an approved financial institution.

Our firm remains focused on ensuring that its offerings are based upon the needs of its clients, not resultant fees received for such services. We want to note that you are under no obligation to act on a recommendation from our firm and, if you elect to do so, you are under no obligation to complete them through our firm or a service provider whom we may recommend.

Firm/Personnel Purchases of Same Securities Recommended to Clients and Conflicts of Interest

McCullagh Financial Services does not trade for its own account (e.g., proprietary trading). The firm’s related persons may buy or sell securities that are the same as, similar to, or different from, those recommended to clients for their accounts, and this poses a conflict of interest. We mitigate this conflict by ensuring that we have policies and procedures in place to ensure that the firm or a related person will not receive preferential treatment over a client.

In an effort to reduce or eliminate certain conflicts of interest involving personal trading (i.e., trading ahead of client recommendation, etc.), firm policy may require that we periodically restrict or prohibit related parties’ transactions. Any exceptions must be approved in writing by our Chief Compliance Officer, and personal trading accounts are reviewed on a quarterly or more frequent basis. Please refer to Item 6 of the accompanying Form ADV Part 2B for further details.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Broker/Dealers for Client Transactions

McCullagh Financial Services does not maintain physical custody of your assets. Your account must be maintained by a qualified custodian (generally a broker/dealer, bank or trust company) that is frequently reviewed for its capabilities to serve in that capacity by their respective industry regulatory authority. Our firm is not a custodian nor is there an affiliate that is a custodian.

If you engage us to provide periodic investment consultation through a financial planning component, you may choose to keep your assets with your present custodian/service provider. Should you prefer a new service provider, a recommendation may be made to you by our firm that is based on your needs, overall cost, and ease of use, and following our review of the recommended provider.

We prefer that our portfolio management services clients use the services of our selected custodian.² While we recommend that you use a particular custodian for your account, you will decide whether to do so and will open your account with them by entering into an account agreement directly with them. We do not technically open the account for you, although we will assist you in doing so.

² Item 15 provides reference to the entities that we have an agreement in place to serve as account custodian for our clients.

The custodian we recommend to our portfolio management clients offers our firm various services which include custody of client assets, trade execution, clearance and settlement, etc. Our firm may receive other benefits from our preferred custodian through participation in their independent advisor support program, some of which may not be made available to a "retail investor." These benefits may include the following products and services (provided either without cost or at a discount):

- receipt of duplicate client statements and confirmations
- research related products and tools
- access to trading desks serving our clients
- access to block trading services
- the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from a client's accounts (per written agreement)
- resource information related to capital markets and various investments
- access to electronic communications networks for client order entry and account information
- access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and/or select investment managers
- discounts on marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to our firm by third-party providers

Some of the noted products and services made available to our firm by our preferred custodian may benefit our advisory firm but may not directly benefit a client account, and certain research and other previously referenced services may qualify as "brokerage or research services" (sometimes referred to as "soft dollars") under Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The availability of these services benefits our firm because we do not have to produce or purchase them as long as clients maintain assets in accounts at our recommended custodian. There is a conflict of interest since our firm has an incentive to select or recommend a custodian based on our firm's interest in receiving these benefits rather than the client's interests in receiving favorable trade execution. It is important to mention that the benefit received by our firm through participation in any custodian's program does not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to that custodian, and our selection of a custodian is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and cost of services provided as a whole -- not just those services that benefit only our advisory firm. Further, we will act in the best interest of our clients regardless of the custodian we may select.

Our firm conducts periodic assessments of any recommended service provider which generally involves a review of the range and quality of services, reasonableness of fees, among other items, and in comparison, to industry peers.

Best Execution

"Best execution" means the most favorable terms for a transaction based on all relevant factors, including those listed in the paragraph titled Factors Used to Select Broker/Dealers for Client Transactions. We recognize our obligation in seeking best execution for our clients; however, it is our belief that the determinative factor is not always the lowest possible cost but whether the selected custodian's transactions represent the best "qualitative execution" while taking into consideration the full range of services provided. Our firm will seek services involving competitive rates but it may not necessarily correlate into the lowest possible rate for each transaction. We have determined having our portfolio management clients' accounts trades completed through our recommended custodian is consistent with our obligation to seek best execution of client trades. A review is regularly conducted with regard to recommending a custodian to our clients in light of our duty to seek best execution.

Directed Brokerage

Our internal policy and operational relationship with our custodian requires client accounts custodied with them to have trades executed per their order routing requirements. We do not direct which executing broker should be selected for client account trades; whether that is an affiliate of our preferred custodian or another executing broker of our custodian's choice. As a result, you may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs, experience greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices on transactions than might otherwise be the case. In addition, since we routinely recommend a custodian for our advisory clients, and that custodian may choose to use the execution services of its broker affiliate for some or all of our client account transactions, there is an inherent conflict of interest involving our recommendation since our advisory firm receives various products or services described in this section from that custodian. Note that we are not compensated for trade routing/order flow, nor are we paid commissions on such trades. We do not receive interest on our client accounts' cash balances.

Our clients are unable to engage in directed brokerage via our custodian. As a result, they may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs, potentially experience greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices on transactions for their account than would otherwise be the case if they had the opportunity to direct brokerage.

Aggregating Securities Transactions

Trade aggregation involves the purchase or sale of the same security for several clients/accounts at approximately the same time. This may also be termed "blocked," "bunched" or "batched" orders. Aggregated orders are effected in an attempt to obtain better execution, negotiate favorable transaction rates, or to allocate equitably among multiple client accounts should there be differences in prices, brokerage commissions or other transactional costs that might otherwise be unobtainable through separately placed orders. Our firm may, but is not obligated to aggregate orders, and the firm does not receive additional compensation or remuneration as a result of aggregated transactions.

Transaction charges and/or prices may vary due to account size and/or method of receipt. To the extent that the firm determines to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which a related person may invest, the firm will generally do so in accordance with the parameters set forth in SEC No-Action Letter, SMC Capital, Inc.

Please note that when trade aggregation is not allowed or infeasible and necessitates individual transactions (e.g., withdrawal or liquidation requests, odd-lot trades, non-discretionary accounts, etc.), an account may potentially be assessed higher costs or less favorable prices than those where aggregation has occurred. We review firm trading processes on a periodic basis to ensure they remain within stated policies and regulation. You will be informed, in advance, should trading practices change at any point in the future.

Trade Errors

The firm corrects its trade errors through an account maintained by its custodian, and the firm may be responsible for trading error losses that occur within a client account. Should there be a gain following the correction of a trading error, the firm will credit the client's account.

Client Referrals from Custodians

We do not receive referrals from our custodian; nor are client referrals a factor in our selection of our custodian.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Schedule for Periodic Review of Client Accounts

Financial Planning Services

Periodic reviews are recommended if you are receiving our financial planning services, and we believe they should occur at least on an annual basis if practical. Reviews will be conducted by Mr. McCullagh and may involve analysis and possible revision of your previous financial plan or investment allocation. A copy of revised plans or asset allocation reports will be provided to you upon request. Unless provided for in your engagement agreement, reviews are generally conducted under a new or amended agreement and will be assessed at our hourly rate.

Portfolio Management Services

Portfolios are reviewed on a quarterly or more frequent basis by Mr. McCullagh. Client reviews are also completed by Mr. McCullagh, and we recommend that they occur on at least an annual basis; preferably more frequently if feasible. A copy of a revised investment guideline or asset allocation reports will be provided to the client upon request.

Review of Client Accounts on Non-Periodic Basis

Financial Planning Services

You should contact our firm for additional reviews when you anticipate or have experienced changes in your financial situation (i.e., changes in employment, an inheritance, the birth of a new child, etc.), or if you prefer to modify investment account requirements. Non-periodic reviews are generally conducted by Mr. McCullagh, which may occur under a new or amended agreement, and will be assessed at our published hourly rate. A copy of revised plans or asset allocation reports will be provided to the client upon request.

Portfolio Management Services

Additional reviews by your portfolio manager and/or Mr. McCullagh may be triggered by news or research related to a specific holding, a change in our view of the investment merits of a holding, or news related to the macroeconomic climate affecting a sector or holding within that sector. A portfolio may be reviewed for an additional holding or when an increase in a current position is under consideration. Account cash levels above or below what we deem appropriate for the investment environment, given the client's stated tolerance for risk and investment objectives, may also trigger a review.

Content of Client Provided Reports and Frequency

Whether you have opened and maintained an investment account on your own or with our assistance, you will receive account statements sent directly from mutual fund companies, transfer agents, custodians or brokerage companies where your investments are held. We urge you to carefully review these account statements for accuracy and clarity, and to ask questions when something is not clear.

Our firm may provide portfolio "snapshots" if we are engaged to provide periodic asset allocation or investment advice. However, we do not provide ongoing performance reporting under our financial planning engagements. Portfolio management services accounts may receive performance reports from our firm that have been generated from our custodian's data systems; we do not create our own performance reports. Clients are urged to carefully review and compare account statements that they have received directly from their custodian of record with any report they may receive from our firm that contains account performance information.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Beyond what had been previously disclosed in Item 12, McCullagh Financial Services does not receive economic benefit from an external source we may recommend to you. We do not engage in solicitation activities involving unregistered persons.

An associate of the firm may hold individual membership or serve on boards or committees of professional industry associations. Generally, participation in any of these entities require membership fees to be paid, adherence to ethical guidelines, as well as in meeting experiential and educational requirements. A benefit these entities may provide to the investing public is the availability of online search tools that allow interested parties (prospective clients) to search for individual participants within a selected state or region. These passive websites may provide means for interested persons to contact a participant via electronic mail, telephone number, or other contact information, in order to interview the participating member. The public may also choose to telephone association staff to inquire about an individual within their area, and would receive the same or similar information. A portion of these participant's membership fees may be used so that their name will be listed in some or all of these entities' websites (or other listings).

Prospective clients locating our advisory firm or an associate via these methods are not actively marketed by the noted associations. Clients who find our firm in this way do not pay more for their services than clients referred in any other fashion. The firm does not pay these entities for prospective client referrals, nor is there a fee-sharing arrangement reflective of a solicitor engagement.

Item 15 – Custody

Your assets will be maintained by an unaffiliated, qualified custodian, such as a bank, trust company, broker/dealer, mutual fund companies or transfer agent. Account assets are not held by our firm or any associate of our firm. We typically recommend Trade-PMR, Inc., who acts as an introducing broker clearing on a fully-disclosed basis through First Clearing LLC for our firm. Both of these firms are FINRA and SIPC members.³ In keeping with this policy involving our client funds or securities, McCullagh Financial Services:

- Restricts the firm or an associate from serving as trustee or having general power of attorney over a client account;
- Prohibits any associate from having authority to directly withdraw securities or cash assets from a client account. Although we may be deemed to have “constructive custody” of your assets since we may request the withdrawal of advisory fees from an account, we will only do so through the engagement of a qualified unaffiliated custodian maintaining your account assets, and with your prior written approval;
- Does not accept or forward client securities (i.e., stock certificates) erroneously delivered to our firm;
- Will not collect advance fees of $500 or more for services that are to be performed six months or more into the future; and
- Will not authorize an associate to have knowledge of a client's account access information (i.e., online 401(k), brokerage or bank accounts) if such access would allow physical control over account assets.

Your custodian of record will provide you with your investment account transaction confirmations and account statements, which will include all debits and credits as well as our firm's advisory fee for that period.

³ McCullagh Financial Services is not a SIPC member, nor are we required to be. You may learn more about the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) and how it serves member firms and the investing public by going to their website at <http://www.sipc.org>.

Client account statements are provided on at least a quarterly basis and confirmations are provided as transactions occur within your account. Our firm will not create an account statement for a client nor serve as the sole recipient of a client account statement.

Should you ever receive a report from our firm that includes investment performance information, you are urged to carefully review and compare your account statements that you have received directly from your custodian of record with any performance report from our firm.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

Portfolio Management Services

We generally provide our portfolio management services on a discretionary basis. Similar to a limited power of attorney, discretionary authority allows our firm to implement investment decisions, such as the purchase or sale of a security on behalf of your account, without requiring your prior authorization for each transaction in order to meet your stated investment objectives. This authority will be granted through your execution of both our engagement agreement and the selected custodian's account opening documents. Note that your custodian will specifically limit our firm's authority within your account to the placement of trade orders and the request for the deduction of our advisory fees.

Our firm prefers to not manage client accounts on a non-discretionary basis but we may accommodate such requests on a case-by-case basis. Such account authority requires your ongoing prior approval involving the investment and reinvestment of account assets, portfolio rebalancing, or for our firm to give instructions to the custodian maintaining your account (i.e., wire instructions, etc.). Should you find it necessary to require such restrictions, we may not offer a reduced fee due to the additional operational costs involved managing your account. You will be required to execute our firm's client services agreement that describes our limited account authority, as well as the custodian of record's account opening document that includes their limited power of attorney form or clause. Please note that in light of the requirement for your pre-approval you must make yourself available and keep our firm updated on your contact information so that instructions can be efficiently effected on your behalf.

Financial Planning Engagements

If you ask us to assist you in any trade execution (including account rebalancing) under an investment consultation component of our financial planning engagement, such as assisting you with your held-away assets, it will only be accomplished on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

You may periodically receive proxies or other similar solicitations sent directly from your selected custodian or transfer agent. Should we receive a duplicate copy, note that we do not forward these or any correspondence relating to the voting of your securities, class action litigation, or other corporate actions.

Our firm does not vote proxies on your behalf, including those accounts that we have discretionary authority over; nor do we offer guidance on how to vote proxies. We will not offer guidance involving any claim or potential claim in any bankruptcy proceeding, class action securities litigation or other litigation or proceeding relating to securities held at any time in a client account, including, without limitation, to file proofs of claim or other documents related to such proceeding, or to investigate, initiate, supervise or monitor class action or other litigation involving client assets. However, we will answer limited questions with respect to what a proxy voting request or other corporate matter may be and how to reach the issuer or their legal representative.

You will maintain exclusive responsibility for directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities that are beneficially owned by you shall be voted, as well as making all other elections relative to mergers, acquisitions, tender offers or other legal matters or events pertaining to your holdings. You should consider contacting the issuer or your legal counsel involving specific questions you may have with respect to a particular proxy solicitation or corporate action.

Item 18 - Financial Information

Our advisory firm will not take physical custody of your assets, nor do we have the type of account authority to have such control. Fee withdrawals must be done through a qualified intermediary (e.g., your custodian of record) per your prior written agreement.

Engagements with our firm do not require that we collect fees from you of $500 or more for our advisory services that we have agreed to perform six months or more into the future.

Neither our firm nor its management serve as general partner for a partnership or trustee for a trust in which the firm's advisory clients are either partners of the partnership or beneficiaries of the trust.

The firm and its management do not have a financial condition likely to impair its ability to meet commitments to clients, nor has the firm and its management been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.

Due to the nature of our firm's advisory services and operational practices, an audited balance sheet is not required nor included in this brochure.

Item 19 - Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

For further information involving firm principal executive and management personnel, their business activities as well as material conflicts of interest, please refer to areas previously disclosed in Items 6 and 9 through 11, and the accompanying Form ADV Part 2B brochure supplement that immediately follows this page.

Business Continuity Plan

Our firm maintains a business continuity and succession contingency plan that is integrated within the organization to ensure it appropriately responds to events that pose a significant disruption to its operations. A statement concerning the current plan is available under separate cover.

Professional Liability Coverage

Pursuant to K.A.R. 81-14-10(b)(2), McCullagh Financial Services hereby discloses that it maintains professional liability insurance coverage involving its investment advisory services activities. Should a client or prospective client request proof of such coverage being in effect, the firm will provide a copy of its insurance agreement within 30 days of the request. The firm will provide amendment to this statement if at some time in the future it no longer maintains such coverage.

Item 3 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisors are required to disclose certain material facts about its associated personnel regarding any legal or disciplinary events, including criminal or civil action in a domestic, foreign or military court, or any proceeding before a state, federal or foreign regulatory agency, self-regulatory organization, or suspension or sanction by a professional association for violation of its conduct rules, that would be material to your evaluation of each officer or a supervised person providing investment advice. Mr. McCullagh has not been the subject of any event requiring such disclosure.

Item 4 – Other Business Activities

Investment advisor representatives are required to disclose outside business activities that account for a significant portion of their time or income, or that may present a conflict of interest with their advisory activities.

¹ North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA) examinations are "criterion based;" candidates who pass the exam are considered to have met the minimum competency level. The completion of an industry examination does not constitute or imply a person is "approved" or "endorsed" by a state, federal or industry regulatory body.

Mr. McCullagh and our advisory firm do not have a material relationship with the issuer of a security. He is not registered, nor has an application pending to register, as a registered representative of a broker/dealer or associated person of a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor. He does not receive commissions, bonuses or other compensation based on the sale of securities, including that as a registered representative of a broker/dealer or the distribution or service (“trail”) fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Mr. McCullagh is the President and shareholder of the closely-held business JTM Holdings, LLC; a pharma industry consulting firm. Mr. McCullagh’s role is administrative in nature and he does not directly participate in consulting activities. This activity involves one percent of his time each month, occurs after traditional business hours, and is not perceived to present a conflict of interest with advisory firm clients.

Item 5 – Additional Compensation

Neither our advisory firm nor Mr. McCullagh is compensated for advisory services involving performance-based fees. In addition, firm policy does not allow associated persons to accept or receive additional economic benefit, such as sales awards or other prizes, for providing advisory services to firm clients.

Item 6 – Supervision

Mr. McCullagh serves as the firm’s Chief Compliance Officer. Because supervising one’s self poses a conflict of interest, the firm has adopted policies and procedures to mitigate this conflict, and may use the services of unaffiliated professionals to ensure the firm’s oversight obligations are met.

Questions relative to the firm, its services or this Form ADV Part 2B may be made to the attention of Mr. McCullagh at (913) 961-3143. Additional information about the firm, other advisory firms, or an associated investment advisor representative is available on the Internet at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. A search of this site for firms may be accomplished by firm name or a unique firm identifier, known as an IARD or CRD number. The IARD number for McCullagh Financial Services is 173926.

The business and disciplinary history, if any, of the firm and its representatives may also be obtained by calling the Kansas Office of the Securities Commissioner at (800) 232-9580.

Item 7 - Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

There have been neither awards nor sanctions or other matter where Mr. McCullagh or McCullagh Financial Services has been found liable in an arbitration, self-regulatory or administrative proceeding. Neither Mr. McCullagh nor our advisory firm has been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.
